RUM BATTLE ON SEA, LAND AND IN AIR

U.S. Leaders Say East Coast Campaign Quickly Made 100 Per Cent Effective

Windsor, Ont., Barrister Calls Ottawa's Attention To Efforts on Great Lakes

New York, May 7.—On sea, on land and in the air forces of United States prohibition enforcement to-day continued their war of extermination against Rum Row. During the night the fleet operating against rum runners off the northeastern coast of the United States had the added task of battling against a thirty-five-mile gale.

With the blockade of Rum Row said by federal agents to have been made 100 per cent effective in less than two days, prohibition agencies in New York and surrounding counties have initiated a clean-up which they say will make it impossible to procure liquor.

One development expected to be helpful in dry law enforcement is the discovery that persons who inform the Government of violations leading to the arrest of dry law offenders may receive twenty-five per cent of the fines as a reward from the Government and may obtain a quarter of the proceeds from the sale of the confiscated boats.

Some sixty craft, manned by 400 men and assisted by thirteen cap-tains, are now actually on patrol duty, blockading the coast from Boston to Atlantic City. With every ship in Rum Row fairly ringed around with the boats of the law, it is virtually impossible, say the dry seamen, for the smaller shore boats to go to or from the floating store-houses of contraband liquors.

TO DESTROY WHISKY
The United States marshal here is to destroy 25,000 bottles of Scotch whisky and 7,000 gallons of alcohol, seized from rum running ships. The liquor is valued at $150,000.

HEARD OF MEETING
Some Canadian war veterans are stirred up over the blockade. At a meeting in Victoria, B.C., speakers said the blockade was a violation of the Washington conference agreement for limitation of naval armaments.

ON GREAT LAKES
Toronto, May 7.—The Toronto Mail and Empire to-day published the following special dispatch from Windsor, Ontario:

"International complications will arise from the efforts of the United States to maintain a coastguard on the Great Lakes to curb rum running between the two countries, it is predicted by John H. Rodd, K.C., former Crown attorney.

"Rodd was emphatic in saying reprisals would follow if the United States pursued its proposed policy of shooting first and investigating afterward."

Horse Owned by King George Won Dee Stakes To-day

London, May 7.—King George's colt Runnymede, by Hurry On out of Saints Mead, to-day won by three lengths the rich Dee Stakes at Chester. Lord Rosebery's filasphenes were second and Sol Joel's Glommern third. All three are candidates for Derby honors. Two more Derby entrants ran, J. J. Maher's Roldere and Aga Khan's Aya. Six horses started.

To-day's was the 113th running of the Dee Stakes for three-year-olds and the success of Runnymede in the royal colors was a very popular victory. Runnymede was quoted in the betting at 8 to 1 against, filasphenes at 5 to 2 and Glommern at 10 to 8.

Bootleggers' Incomes And Tax Problem Being Considered

Ottawa, May 7.—J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg Centre, asked in the House of Commons what action the Government proposed to take to recover the taxation on the gains made by the admitted bootlegger whose case had been before the Supreme Court of Canada this week.

Mr. Woodsworth pointed out that the Supreme Court had ruled that the income from bootlegging was not taxable. He asked what steps would be taken to punish the criminal.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, said that as the decision had been rendered only on Wednesday, it had not been considered by the Department of Justice.

ALTERNATE VOTE BILL IN COMMONS

Ottawa, May 7.—Premier King announced in the House this afternoon that the Government intended to reintroduce the alternative vote bill at an early date.

Murder Trials Here To Start June 15

The Victoria assizes at which Baker and Sowash will be placed on trial for the Beryl G. murders were to-day set for June 15, Attorney-General Manson announced to-day.

The Nanaimo assizes at which the bank robbery case against Watson will be heard will open on May 26.

A. M. Johnson, K.C., will prosecute in the Beryl G. murder and the bank robbery cases. Crown prosecutor in the other cases has not been announced yet.

Other cases to come up at the Victoria assizes are those against McAdam for rape, Tanqueray for manslaughter, Bailey for theft, Ping for theft and Bran Singh for procuring.

Besides the Watson bank robbery charge there are to come up at Nanaimo, Yamamoto for the Port Alice murder, Dickie for the pentecostal murder of a child and Fernandez for perjury.

In connection with the announcement of the assize dates a statement was given out denying inferences in the published report of Tuesday that the Attorney-General had conferred with Chief Justice Hunter just before the Chief Justice came to town to give his decision in the Stromkins application.

It is explained that in the newspaper story with regard to Stromkins' application for habeas corpus, which was refused by Chief Justice Hunter, it was unfortunately stated that the Attorney-General was closeted with the Chief Justice with regard to the application in court. In fairness it should be stated that Mr. Manson's conference with the Chief Justice was with regard to the date of the Victoria and Nanaimo assizes and had nothing to do with the Stromkins application.

AMUNDSEN'S SHIP AT DANES ISLAND

FIRST PETERSEN SHIP LAUNCHED IN OLD COUNTRY

By Times Staff Representative
Ottawa, May 7.—The Canadian Government's campaign to reduce Atlantic Ocean rates advanced another step yesterday with the launching in Britain of the first ship of the fleet to be operated under the Petersen subsidy. The ship was christened "The Ottawa River."

The delegates from Great Britain will arrive in Canada the liner Empress of France July 15 and will sail from Vancouver and Victoria on the Canadian-Australasian liner Aorangi July 29. The intervening eleven days will be spent in traveling in Canada, including visits to Banff and Lake Louise.

EMPIRE PRESS DELEGATES TO PASS THROUGH VICTORIA ON WAY TO AUSTRALASIA

Montreal, May 7.—Arrangements for the Imperial Press Conference which is to be held next September in Melbourne, Australia, are nearing completion.

The delegates from Great Britain will arrive in Canada the liner Empress of France July 15 and will sail from Vancouver and Victoria on the Canadian-Australasian liner Aorangi July 29. The intervening eleven days will be spent in traveling in Canada, including visits to Banff and Lake Louise.

TOURS ARE PLANNED
The Australian and New Zealand press are preparing a great reception and a comprehensive tour for the members of the conference. The plans comprise a stay of ten days in New Zealand and of two months in Australia, allowing for a week in every state in addition to the time spent at the sessions of the conference.

The delegates of the delegates, however, will not be able to carry out the whole programme and are planning to return to Canada immediately after the conference, which will enable them to make the whole trip in less than three months. The delegates are to pay their own ocean expenses, but will be the guests of the press associations of Australia and New Zealand while in those countries. The British delegation is desired to have representation from all sections of Canada on the delegation. Mr. Crandall reports that it is proving unexpectedly difficult to settle the nominations for Ontario and Quebec in particular.

MARRIES GIRL OF SAN FRANCISCO; MISCHA ELMAN

Richmond, Va., May 7.—Although four coaches were derailed and the engine turned completely over when Chesapeake and Ohio fast train No. 4 from Louisville and Cincinnati ran into a faulty switch just outside of Richmond late yesterday, no one was injured.

TRAIN WAS DERAILED

May 7, 1915, when the submarine menace was at its height, was a bitter day to merchant mariners, for the pride of the Canadian fleet went to the bottom. Dozens of craft rushed to the assistance of the stricken ship, but 1,384 perished at the hands of the ruthless Germans.

Ten years ago to-day the liner Lusitania was sunk by a German "U" boat off the Irish coast, with 2,067 persons on board.

San Francisco, May 7.—Mischa Elman, noted violinist, and Miss Helen Frances Katten, a local society girl, were married here yesterday at the home of Miss Katten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Katten. The engagement was announced several months ago when the violinist said he had found his "ideal girl."

NOW PREPARE FOR HINDENBURG EVENT

All Foreign Government Spokesmen in Berlin Expected to Attend

Berlin, May 7.—With the preliminary details of Field-Marshal von Hindenburg's inauguration as President of Germany out of the way, interest now centres in the attitude to be adopted by the foreign governments, and especially their representatives to Berlin.

As the field marshal was on the list of all the war criminals to be extradited, the Allied Governments must either decline to congratulate him, which would be felt as an insult to the nation whose elected head he is, or else tacitly forget that such a list existed, thereby taking a further step in wiping out the past.

It is believed the diplomatic corps will appear in full force at the inauguration.

SOCIALISTS PROTEST

An official protest has been entered by the Socialists against the validity of the election of von Hindenburg. The Socialists charge many irregularities and demand the election be declared void.

This action, however, does not seem to worry the Nationalists, who say it will be difficult to prove that the circumstances were such as to affect the result of the votes.

There is an agitation also over the issue whether the republican flag should be retained or the old black, white and red be re-adopted. The Republican Reichs Banner Association has refused to participate in the reception of von Hindenburg with the Nationalist organizations claiming that the flag will be the occasion of a monarchist demonstration.

The head of the Reichs Banner Association, Herr Heisinger, in a manifesto declares that von Hindenburg "must and will deliver the oath" on the republican flag, which was, he says, insulted by the Nationalists during the campaign, culminating in the declared election of the field marshal.

MOTORIST GAVE MAN LIFT AND LATER FOUND DAGGER IN HIS AUTO

Vancouver, May 7.—The discovery of a bloodstained pearl handled dagger in his automobile by C. C. Brown, after a man to whom he had given a lift had left the car, has led to a police investigation.

Brown told the police he had given a stranger a lift at New Westminster yesterday, and that after the man had alighted he discovered the dagger on the floor of the car.

HANDSOME NEW BUILDING FOR BUSINESS AREA

Cecil French to Erect Two-story Block Near Belmont Building

Blasting operations behind the Belmont building to-day marked the first steps to the erection of a handsome new two-story stone and brick building which will replace the old dilapidated structure which has stood idle on the southwest corner of Courtenay and Gordon Streets for several years.

The old empty building had been an eyesore in a district where such impressive blocks as the Belmont building and the Union Club stand. Part of it has already been torn down and virtually only the stone walls will be left.

Cecil French will have erected on the site a building which will be more in keeping with the other buildings of the section. It will contain private and public offices, suites and a garage. Of stone and brick it will have an impressive outside appearance and the interior will also be in keeping with well appointed showrooms on the ground floor.

The lot was purchased from the city by Mr. French and considerable satisfaction is expressed by officials of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and property owners in the section that the decrepit old building which had long ago seen its best days will soon be replaced by a building in keeping with the other buildings in that neighborhood.

Ontario Premier Asks Time For Beer Sale Plan

Ottawa, May 7.—The Government should be given credit for endeavoring to improve the moral situation, and we ask you to wait and see what the result will be," stated Premier G. H. Ferguson before the Eastern Ontario Liberal-Conservative Association here last night, in referring to the legislation passed by the Ontario Legislature permitting the sale of 44 per cent beer in the Province.

"The greatest menace we have in the result of this legislation is the number of prescriptions issued in 1920 was 2,000, while in 1924 they were over 5,000,000."

The three, A. Pemberton, his son Angle and the girl, went to a river near their home to fish. The girl was placed on a log at the edge of the stream. The father left her for a time and when he returned she was gone.

A frantic search resulted in the finding of her body about a thousand feet down stream. Life was extinct.

CLUES IN SEARCH FOR MEN WHO HELD WONG, VANCOUVER CHINESE, BEING TRACED DOWN

Arrests Within Forty-eight Hours Are Probable; Wong to Appear in Police Court To-morrow on Charge of Murdering Janet Smith; Houseboy Examined by Physicians to Discover Extent of Injuries Inflicted on Him.

Vancouver, May 7.—Inspector of Provincial Police Forbes Cruickshank, recalled from the State of Washington, where he was engaged for weeks in running down clues in the Beryl G. murder case, has been commissioned by the Attorney-General's department to take on the task of running to earth the abductors of Wong Foon Sing, Chinese houseboy of the Baker family, who now stands accused of the murder of Janet Smith here.

Inspector Cruickshank started to work yesterday. His staff was immediately increased and it is reported that within the next forty-eight hours arrests are expected.

Police are now hot on the trail of two men who are alleged to have information of the kidnapping.

During Wong's captivity, according to information which has reached J. S. Seakler, K.C., counsel for the boy, he was visited by a physician. The visit was made about three weeks after Wong had been placed under detention and followed some rather severe treatment at the hands of his captors. This man was masked, declares Wong, and spent some time making a physical examination.

3,000 HELD IN PRISONS NOW IN BULGARIA

Arrested as Result of Cathedral Murders; Several Gangs Still at Large

Sofia, May 7.—More arrests have been made in consequence of revelations at the trial of those charged with complicity in the Sveti Kral Cathedral bombing outrage, which resulted in the killing of 160 persons.

There are now about 3,000 persons in prison throughout Bulgaria and the authorities state the communist organization which is blamed for the plot is more far-reaching than was at first supposed.

Nearly all members of the middle class who were involved in the movement have been apprehended, but several gangs of young idealists and Communists are still undiscovered.

Few peasants were imbued with the communist doctrine, the authorities say, and the majority of those arrested belong in towns where poverty and discontent offer a favorable field for the Red propaganda.

BOMBS ARE FOUND
The militia continues its close watch on all entering or leaving Sofia and several cases are reported of persons leaving bombs or explosives in public gardens, fearing to be found with them in their possession.

A remarkable feature of the recent events is the amount of army ammunition in the hands of the civilian population, and the authorities say further isolated acts of violence are bound to occur until the disarmament is general.

MOROCCAN REVOLT INTERESTS FLORIDANS

Miami, Fla., May 7.—The Miami Daily News says the future of this country's foreign market for phosphate rock is involved in the Riff revolt against French authorities in Morocco.

South Florida, which is credited by government statistics with fifty-two per cent of the world's known phosphate rock deposits, finds its greatest competition in foreign markets from Moroccan phosphate mines operating under French subsidies to amount to 50,000,000 francs and enabling French Morocco to undersell United States corporations.

Should the Riff revolt succeed in breaking the French Moroccan industrial agreement, American phosphate exports, cut forty-one per cent since the opening of Moroccan mines by the French, would be restored to their former volume, the article points out.

Phosphate mining operations in Morocco are reported to have been suspended temporarily as a result of the hostilities.

American Sumatra Tobacco Co. Fails
 New York, May 7.—The American Sumatra Tobacco Company was placed in equity receivership to-day by Judge Goddard in federal district court on application of Harding, Tilton & Co., holders of a claim against the tobacco company for $14,430. It was said that the company, capitalized at $17,000,000, was in condition more than to liquidate all claims but the need of raising money for immediate expense made necessary to receivership. According to Louis Leopold, president of the company, the directors have been unable to raise enough money to refund $2,650.00 worth of gold notes which mature on June 1 and leave sufficient working capital to carry on the business.

The Bank of Hamilton
 A Chapter in the Story of a Canadian Banking Family

 With the industrial centre of Hamilton as its base, the Bank soon began to extend its field of operations, opening branches in central and western Ontario from 1874 onwards. In 1896 an office was opened at Winnipeg, the first of a chain that was eventually to stretch westward to the Pacific Coast.
 A change had gradually been coming over the banking situation in Canada, however, as the economic life of the country was being welded into one great national unit. The burden of financing the country's business, especially since the war, has in short, emphasized the need for consolidating and conserving banking resources, in order to procure the maximum of operating efficiency and to offer the public the most complete service possible. In accordance with this general banking trend a proposal was made towards the latter part of 1923 for the amalgamation of the Bank of Hamilton with The Canadian Bank of Commerce, which, on receiving the necessary authority, became effective on the last day of that year.
 By this union The Canadian Bank of Commerce rounded out its national system, especially in the heart of Ontario, where both institutions had their beginning.
 One of a series of advertisements describing the banks now incorporated with The Canadian Bank of Commerce.
Head Office of the Bank of Hamilton Hamilton
 now occupied by The Canadian Bank of Commerce

THE establishment of the Bank of Hamilton in 1872, two years after the assets of the Gore Bank were taken over by The Canadian Bank of Commerce, gave Hamilton once more a local banking house; and, as was the case in other Canadian communities during the last century, the local support which such an institution was able to command contributed greatly towards the building up of many businesses which are now fully national in their scope.

BEAUTIFUL NUMBERS BY SCHUBERT CLUB

Mrs. D. B. McConnan to Assist in Recital on Tuesday

The programme arranged for the Schubert Club recital at Memorial Hall next Tuesday evening promises to be replete with interest. Those who heard the singing of the club at its opening concert earlier in the year state that it is a unique organization and one that will prove a valuable acquisition to the musical interests of the city. Noticeable in their work is the close attention to details which, coupled with a keen conception and appreciation of the character of the text of their songs, make for the presentation of each composition as a picture in itself. In the numbers which the club is singing next Tuesday are included Schubert's beautiful song, "Whither" and "The Wanderer's Night Song" by Rubinstein, both gems of classical composition. Also a wonderful setting of Frederic Clay's "Sands O'Dee." "My Marguerite," another of his sweet little lyrics written on an old French folk melody. Much interest is shown in the appearance with the club of Mrs. D. B. McConnan, who has been engaged by them for this occasion. Mrs. McConnan has been applying herself to serious study during the past three years, and this will practically be her first appearance since retiring from concert work, and those who appreciate her artistry in interpretation of song are looking forward to a treat at the time. Mrs. McConnan has also been secured and will contribute groups of violin solos in her mastery style. Mr. Pryce will also be heard in duet with Miss Rita Orlinton in a number for violin and piano. Miss Orlinton is also accompanying Mr. Pryce, Miss Eleanor Barfoot will assist Mrs. McConnan in her accompaniments. Miss Muriel Bishop will preside at the piano as accompanist for the numbers sung by the club. Tickets may be obtained at Fletcher Brothers' music store.

 "As Mr. Rodd was making his statement the news came that elaborate plans, which were carefully guarded, were being worked out by Michigan and Washington prohibition officers for the operations of the rum fleet. Twenty-two cruisers, carrying cannon and smaller guns, have been commissioned for service on the Great Lakes.
 "I consider these proposals of the United States authorities an outrage," said Mr. Rodd. "They are almost sure to result in international complications. The United States Government has no right to use treasure within the three-mile limit in a matter such as this, that is, the enforcing of purely domestic and summary legislation."
 "The United States Government has no jurisdiction on the Great Lakes beyond its water boundary line. I intend to call the attention of the Canadian Government immediately to this new situation."
 "Of the twenty-two boats commissioned, four seventy-five patrol boats are assigned to Lake Erie, four to Lake Ontario and two to Lake Huron. The twelve picket boats have not yet been stationed."
 A dispatch from Windsor last night said:
 Attention of the Canadian Government will be brought to the "shoot first and investigate afterwards" policy of the United States Government in its efforts to curb rum running by J. H. Rodd, K.C., a former Crown attorney. He did not think the United States would adopt this policy on the Great Lakes.

Fruit Forecasts Too Optimistic

Vernon, B.C., May 7.—R. O. Hambling of Oyama, a Vernon representative on the board of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, said to-day that as the result of an inspection of fruit prospects in the Okanagan which he had just made, he feared some of the recent crop forecasts were somewhat too optimistic.
 From Penticton northward there was mostly very little plum blossom. Stone fruit generally, except cherries, appeared likely to be a light crop.

LORD LEVERHULME DIED IN ENGLAND

Head of Great Soap-making Organization Was in Seventy-Fourth Year

Self-made Man; Born in Bolton; Visited Canada Several Times

London, May 7.—Lord Leverhulme, who rose from a grocer's assistant to become one of the leading industrial figures of the British Empire, died at 4.30 o'clock this morning. He had been ill with bronchitis only a few days, and until yesterday his condition had not caused great anxiety. Yesterday morning, however, it was announced pneumonia had set in. At about midnight the illness was pronounced "very grave" and then on he sank rapidly until the end came.

His passing brought almost universal expressions of regret, especially in the business community, where he was acknowledged to be among the leaders. As chairman of Lever Brothers, he controlled sixty British soap manufacturing and other companies and subsidiaries overseas, with capitalization of £56,271,000.

Despite his age—he was in his seventy-fourth year—Lord Leverhulme kept himself in excellent condition, and it was for this reason when his illness was first announced that it caused no fears.

It is recalled that on his recent visit to East Africa he had a gymnasium fitted up on his private yacht and took a daily round of exercise to keep himself fit.

His only son, William Hulme Lever, succeeds to the title of acting chairman of Lever Brothers.

William Hesketh Lever, first Baron Leverhulme, was born in Bolton, one of the busy cotton towns of Lancashire, in 1851. His father was a wholesale grocer there, and young Lever, at the age of sixteen, helped in the business. Ten years later he bought a business for himself in Wigan, a town very similar to and not far from Manchester. He placed years of hard work and hard-headed management made Lever a prosperous grocer, and then, to use his own words, "he thought he would go into soap."

Although he struck the now famous trade name "Sunlight" during the first few hours, the actual making of the soap for some time had to be entrusted to an outside firm. Lever eventually took some works at Warrington and in two years' time the orders exceeded the output; moreover, Lever was tired of squabbling with rapacious owners of neighboring land, who thought his success in the works at Warrington chained him to the spot. He hid himself among the banks of the Mersey, and length paused to look over a field gate. "Here we are," he ordered, and he never looked any farther. Where the field gate stood there is now the front entrance of Lever Brothers, and all around it for miles are the factories and the lovely industrial village of Port Sunlight.

MODEL TOWN
The late Lady Lever cut the first turf at Port Sunlight in March, 1888. The model village adjacent to the factories is constantly growing; there are churches, libraries, club, gymnasium—everything for the physical and moral uplifting of the population. Not a cent of interest has been charged by Lord Leverhulme's company on the capital outlay upon the village. He himself more than once declared, "If we had searched the country around us, we could not have found a better investment." He stipulated from the first that the number of houses should not exceed the acreage. The rents are based purely on the cost of upkeep, with one per cent added for depreciation.

In middle of Lord Leverhulme (he was created a baronet in 1911 and a peer in 1917)—looked exactly what he was, a prosperous, hard-headed son of Lancashire.

CASE IN COURT
Many years ago there was a memorable collision between Lord Northcliffe and Lord Leverhulme, who had initiated a project to buy out the whole of the soap-making business of Great Britain would come under his control. Whether this would have been of benefit to soap users is debatable. At any rate, there was nothing illegal in attempting such a merger. The proposal, however, aroused a campaign against the Lever firm in the Northcliffe papers all over the United Kingdom. Writs for libel followed. Sir Rufus Isaacs, now Lord Reading, appeared for The London Daily Mail; Lord (then Sir Edward) Carson led for Lever Brothers.

The head of the soap firm was soon under the first of Isaacs, in those days one of the most subtle cross-examiners in the British courts. All his skill, though, could make no impression on the quiet but impregnable front presented by Lever in the witness box. For a whole day and half the cleverest advocates in Britain endeavored to find an opening, but the prosperous-looking soap boiler never gave him a chance. It was a remarkable exhibition, more so because neither advocate nor witness ever once showed the slightest sign of temper.

LOST OVER £100,000
Finally Isaacs arose and declared that in view of the chief witness's answers he could carry his client's defence no further. Without leaving the box the juror awarded the Lever Brothers £50,000 damages. Similar actions against other papers of the Northcliffe group were settled out of court. The whole business cost Lord Northcliffe's papers something over £100,000.

Why Northcliffe chose to make so bitter an attack against Lord Leverhulme's activities has never been revealed. The result was certainly the biggest setback the great newspaper magnate ever endured.

MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT
Rather curiously, Lord Leverhulme failed to persuade the electors in that part of the country where his works are situated to return him to Parliament until he appealed to them for the fifth time. He sat for the Wirral Division of Cheshire from 1906 to 1910, but made no great impression in the Commons. He never was a political orator, although he was always ready to defend in solid fashion his belief that English prosperity was founded upon free imports. Once he engaged in public debate with P. E. Smith, afterwards Lord Chancellor Birkenhead. The millionaire soap maker was old enough to be his opponent's father. "P. E." had not then even won his first election, but was already glib of tongue and pert in retort. In mere debating ability "the smart" and promising young lawyer fairly walked around the elderly soap maker for all the nations. The debate, though, did not convince everyone who heard it that all the brains, to say nothing of courtesy to those who have not the ready tongue, were on one day as helpful to production.

TWO PORTRAITS
Lord Leverhulme was a generous and discerning patron of painting. A few years ago there was a good deal of amusement over his differences with two celebrated portrait painters to whom he sat for his portrait. In the first instance the painting was returned to the painter with the heading cut out. It was at once explained that the return of the mutilated painting was entirely unintentional. Lord Leverhulme explained that his general objections to the painter's efforts. In the second instance Lord Leverhulme objected to paying the stipulated price for a full-length portrait when only a three-quarter-length work had resulted. Very naturally these incidents caused a certain amount of indignation among painters, and a not at all uncertain amount of amusement among the general public.

To Port Sunlight Lord Leverhulme presented an art gallery and museum in memory of his wife. He made notable benefactions to his native town of Bolton, and to Masonic and other charities. Socially he was one of the happiest of men, and after seventy years of age was often ready to dance through a whole programme.

Lord Leverhulme's private inclinations, as well as his business responsibilities, constituted him a great traveler. He frequently visited Canada, and when in this country in 1919 he took occasion to reiterate his views on the advantages of a six-hour day through a whole programme. On his return from the United States a year later he declared that if Britain followed the States in this matter he would pay her debt to the United States in five years.

In his later years Lord Leverhulme suffered from extreme deafness, and had for a widower for a good many years.

The new Viscount Leverhulme, son of the late leader, has been elected chairman of the business his father founded.

Lord Leverhulme visited Victoria on several occasions, his last visit being about three years ago.

CUT COMMONS TO 200 MEMBERS

Senator Lynch-Staunton Says Administration Forces in Canada Too Numerous

Ottawa, May 7.—"With banners flying and music playing, Canada is riding into the jaws of financial death," said Senator George Lynch-Staunton, Hamilton, Ontario, in the Senate yesterday afternoon, speaking on his motion calling for a reduction in the membership of the House of Commons.

He said the machinery of government in Canada was overcrowded; the country was infested with officials; the House of Commons membership should be reduced to 200, and the Senate was unnecessarily large.

SAYS PREMIER RULES

Senator Lynch-Staunton traced the development of parliamentary government in Canada to the time when the British Empire was a mere collection of islands and a few scattered colonies. He said the Premier ruled Canada through their representatives was unfounded. In the olden days the King ruled the Empire, and the Premier ruled Canada. At the council board he dictated legislation and presented it to Parliament, he said.

The House of Commons is not only of no benefit to Canada, but is the occasion of enormous expenditure," he said. "If it were not that the Government treasuries are necessary to raise enormous funds to bribe the people to send back its followers, would we ever have had the enormous waste that was involved in railway construction?"

OVERGROWN NOW

Governmental machinery had become overgrown, he said. The Senate had been constituted to see that no Government trespassed on the rights of the people. It would be unwise to dispose entirely of the Senate, and to elect it would make it subservient to the Government.

He estimated that, from the Federal Government to the township councils, there were in the employ of the public service in Canada 590,000, which meant that 2,000,000 people out of the 9,000,000 people in Canada were living on the others. The country was absolutely infested with Government officials.

The present membership of the House of Commons is 235. The membership of the Senate is 95.

Mr. Lynch-Staunton, a Conservative, was appointed to the Senate in January, 1917.

LORD LEVERHULME

LORD LEVERHULME'S passing ends a remarkably successful industrial career and the British Empire loses an outstanding and most interesting personality. From a start in the world of trade and commerce in his father's wholesale grocery establishment he pursued his way with courage and determination until he had developed an early vision into a great and profitable industry.

Port Sunlight is much more than a large industrial area in which an important household commodity is manufactured. It is a monument to successful co-operation between Capital and Labor—the smooth-working evidence of their interdependence. Within its boundaries the "Sunlight" family works and lives and finds much of its recreation. Scientific investigation into the human capacity to discharge the daily task long ago determined the conditions of employment that should obtain in the great establishment. An appreciation of human requirements similarly dictated the conditions under which the worker should live. With these important factors controlling the home of "Sunlight Soap" it is small wonder that, as in the case of the Cadbury establishment at Bourneville and the Rowntree organization near York—both of which are operated on the comprehensive "model" lines—Capital and Labor should dwell together in complete and mutually profitable harmony.

The late Lord Leverhulme was no stranger to Victoria and those who were privileged to meet him and hear him on the occasion of his last visit were fascinated by the intense humanity of one of Lancashire's most successful sons. He was then the picture of health and belied any suggestion that the hand of death would so soon fall upon him. His numerous friends here and in other parts of Canada will have received the news with genuine regret.

SMALLPOX AND TUBERCULOSIS

MUCH HAS BEEN SAID and written about the efficacy and uselessness of vaccination as a preventive of smallpox. Experts and laymen have generated not a little heat in support of their contentions both for and against this particular course of medical treatment. The Times has nothing to offer in support or in condemnation of any of these arguments. Now that all the excitement and alarms, warranted and unwarranted, have died down it merely desires to draw the attention of the general public to what it considers to be an altogether disproportionate manifestation of concern for the health of the people of this and other communities.

Smallpox is obviously a loathsome disease. One involuntarily shudders at the thought of it. But its visitations are exceedingly rare and are more or less confined to one or two communities at a time—often it is said the result of some ineffectual operation of a sanitary ordinance. What is more to the point is the fact that as public health standards have improved and living conditions now more nearly conform to what are, after all, or should be so considered, the elementary principles of sanitation, the death toll has been very considerably curtailed. The truth of this statement is revealed in the comparatively insignificant cost in human life of the latest visitation in this Province. For a few weeks there was a great deal of excitement and much apparently needless apprehension. Let smallpox thus go by the name of spectacular. It will suit the purpose The Times desires to serve.

What does the general public hear about tuberculosis? How many letters are sent to the newspapers in behalf of the men and women of this Province who are actually facing the prospect of a slow death—a fate which might have been averted had the experts and the laymen of the Province generated a year or so ago one-half of the heat and apprehension which they have generated during the last few weeks in connection with an invasion of the public health which was hardly entitled to the term epidemic.

There are four thousand cases of tuberculosis in British Columbia at the present time and the average annual death rate from this cause alone is something like four hundred. But tuberculosis is not a spectacular complaint. The fact just stated will leave most people quite cold. It will not be followed by "round robins" from experts or appeals from laymen; no urgent demand that the people bestir themselves and do something to prevent the awful wastage of life that it is causing from year to year. It is not spectacular. The man or woman who could be properly cared for amid surroundings especially favorable to alleviation and cure lies at home, or in an institution if a little money has been saved to pay the cost, and in many cases has nothing better to look forward to than the day when gradual wastage shall have completed its work. Four thousand cases of tuberculosis in British Columbia and one provincial institution that will accommodate less than three hundred of the patients for whom it was originally planned and constructed!

If ever there was cause for excitement and alarm among experts and laymen, that cause is revealed in the present number of sufferers from tuberculosis in this Province, and further emphasized in the woeful lack of facilities to treat them while they suffer and preserve their regained health afterwards. Why, the local branch of the Tuberculosis Veterans Association actually finds it necessary to pass resolution after resolution to insure just a little more practical sympathy in pension matters than is required in the case of the man with a less troublesome disability. Let the Provincial Board of Health, through the Legislature, ask for more funds to pursue its excellent work against the white plague and see what would happen. There is nothing spectacular about tuberculosis. It is spoken of in more or less hushed tones—as are other much more vicious diseases than smallpox spoken of.

MORE TORY CLOOM

WHILE THE MONTREAL Star is having an off season or concocting its next "whisper of death," and Mr. Meighen and the other members of the Party of Gloom are indulging in a brief breathing spell, Senator Lynch-Staunton fills in with a declaration that "with banners flying and music playing Canada is riding into the jaws of financial death."

Were this Conservative Senator to be told that he is making speeches which would actually send Canada "into the jaws of financial death" if the people of this country and other countries were not beginning to see through the nonsense, which the members of the Party of Gloom are continually talking, he would no doubt rise in his wrath and consider that his patriotism had been challenged and his concern for the future of his native land wrongly understood. Yet Senator Lynch-Staunton can not escape the charge that his published view of Canada's financial position, a view appearing in all intents and purposes to the observer in Great Britain as the considered judgment of a responsible parliamentarian, is just the sort of material for which anti-Canadian influences are looking to assist them, for some as yet obscure reason, actually to send Canada "into the jaws of financial death."

We shall suggest that no serious-minded Canadian will be perturbed by the Senator's description of Canada's "random ride" to bankruptcy. It will be put with the rest of the programme of petty politics which the Leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons long ago drew up for the Party of Gloom to follow.

ANOTHER TESTIMONIAL

FROM STILL ANOTHER quarter in Britain comes the declaration that Canadian cattle are the healthiest in the world. Market authorities now add their voice of approval to that which the butchers raised so cordially at Margate recently and suggest Canadian dairy cattle be now imported in order to secure an adequate milk supply and replace the animal slaughtered under the foot and mouth disease edict.

It is pointed out that when the new order with regard to cattle with tuberculosis comes into effect shortly, still many more animals will be destroyed and the present shortage thus further emphasized. In this connection it was freely asserted at the meeting at which the subject was under discussion that "among Canadian cattle tuberculosis averaged only one per cent. in Canada."

Although there is very little prospect that the existing import regulations will be extended either to meet the wishes of the butchers expressed some time ago or those of the market authorities here referred to, these frequent declarations in praise of the health and general excellence of our cattle furnish an interesting contrast to the arguments which prohibitionists advanced before the Finlay Commission a year or so ago.

DR. FRANK CRANE

The Cross-Word Puzzle

A NEW book by a man named Foster lies upon my desk. Foster has invented a new kind of cross-word puzzle. I have several books of cross-word puzzles that have been sent to me. Every day when I pick up a newspaper I see cross-word puzzles as an established part of the daily papabum for the common people.

The cross-word puzzle seems to have taken the country. It is the kind of puzzle that is devoted to the subject have existed in the United States. It has become a sort of fad from which few people are exempted.

There is much to be said in its favor. Cross-word puzzles improve the vocabulary, they develop concentration and agility of mind. Balmor, the famous cross-word puzzle composer in his day, says, "The constant use of the dictionary, frequent search for proper synonyms, study of the derivation and construction of words, logical habits of deduction and the ability to intuitively grasp an author's hidden meaning, develop an intimate acquaintance with the English language that steadily enriches one's vocabulary as can no other means of study."

The cross-word puzzle is nothing but an easy form of word square. Whereas, in the word square, all words are interlocking, in the cross-word puzzle such interlocks are but few. The constructor saves himself the trouble of thinking out a number of words in the same letters by introducing blank spaces.

One sign of a ready command of the English language is an ability to say the same thing in other words. And the proof of one's mastery of the tongue is that he can think of a short word and a sound Anglo-Saxon word in preference to a long and Latin word. In the days of Dana of The New York Tribune the word "begin" was taboo. The word "begin" should be used instead.

As an exercise in mental agility, the cross-word puzzle has been a good thing. It is impossible to see any harm it can do, except, perhaps, that it can take too much time from other and more necessary pursuits. But the people must have some form of play, and a cross-word puzzle is infinitely preferable to checkers, chess and other games of chance. It calls for resourcefulness, agility, and the ability of one mind to penetrate the activities of another.

It will be found in real life that some do not depend upon one's logical equipment, but upon his combination of resourcefulness and luck. He must be able to think quickly and accurately, rather than be able to think logically in a straight line.

As a "cos ingeniorum," or whetstone for the wit, the cross-word puzzle is invaluable. The solution is not dependent upon skill, but upon the definition of touch, nor any other muscular excellence, but upon the powers of the mind alone, and as a mental stimulus it will be welcome.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

THURSDAY, MAY 7.

ROBERT BROWNING Celebrated English poet, was born near London on May 7, 1812. He was the husband of Elizabeth Barrett Browning, a poet almost as well-known. His best work, perhaps, is in his short poems, particularly his love lyrics. Other writings include "The Ring and the Book," "Pippa Passes," and "A Blot in the Scutcheon."

JOSEPH G. CANNON

ANTON SEIDL

Hungarian conductor, especially of Wagner's music, was born at Pest, Hungary, on May 7, 1850. Through Wagner's influence he obtained the position of conductor at the Leipzig Opera House. Later he came to New York City, where he conducted German opera and the concerts of the Philharmonic Society.

ELBERT HUBBARD

American writer and philosopher, was drowned in the sinking of the steamer Lusitania by a German submarine off Kinsale, Ireland, on May 7, 1918. Approximately 1150 lives were lost in the disaster.

RE UPLANDS BY-LAW

To the Editor:—During the past four months the Oak Bay Municipal Council have endeavored in the interest of the ratepayers to find a solution of the "Uplands question" which they were confronted on coming into office.

Apart from the complexities surrounding the situation, the main object which the council as a whole kept in view was to endeavor to bring relief in the near future to the ratepayers by a reduced annual assessment, therefore when considering the making of an agreement with the Uplands Limited, they immediately saw no agreement could be consummated unless "Lot X" with all parks, spaces, etc., together with water, electric light, telephones and sewage systems, etc., were decided to the municipality, free of all encumbrances.

If the by-law passes, as I sincerely hope it will, the confidence of the public will be established with the result that those who are looking for residential lots will not doubt inspect the Uplands with a view to securing a lot in one of the most beautiful districts on the Pacific Coast.

With increased population in our municipality, and the more land taken up, the present annual expenditure will be borne by a greater number of ratepayers, therefore it will be in the natural course of events, enable the council to set a lower rate of assessment.

The Council further decided that in order to place this agreement before the ratepayers and ask them for their endorsement of a by-law, that all expenses connected with it must be undertaken by the Uplands Limited. As one of the council members earnestly ask for an endorsement of the by-law on Saturday next, believing that it will be to the best interest of all ratepayers.

C. F. L. MONEY, Councilor, 1557 Wilmut Place, Oak Bay, May 7, 1925.

UPLANDS BY-LAW

To the Editor:—As one who was honored with the confidence of the people of Oak Bay at the last election, it is impossible for me to keep silent any longer on the question of the Uplands by-law.

With other members of the council I was nominated and elected on a platform in which we were pledged to economy and to reduce if possible the heavy burden of taxation now imposed in the Oak Bay Municipality.

In an endeavor to keep our pledges I have found myself in opposition to the revenue and a majority of the council on more than one occasion. I opposed a rebate of one-half the taxes on the Willows ground, which was granted to the city of Victoria, knowing that the rest of the lot would be made up to the amount, but at no time in the history of Oak Bay has a by-law been put before the people that more completely endorses the increase of taxes than does this agreement with the Uplands mortgages.

Under this by-law we give an assessment of ten years on the Uplands at a rate of one-third or one-fourth of the assessment in other sections, and with an increase of population the difference will increase. We pay the sum of $27,000 to take over a serious liability in the shape of roads and boulevards which we place ourselves to keep up for ten years at a much higher standard than is maintained on our thickly settled streets, and to maintain a lighting system is out of repair and that pipes and some of the conduits may have to be taken up, and there will be much expense to make necessary repairs.

As to Lot "X," it was regularly assessed for 1923 taxes with the other lands and I have legal advice that it can be sold for the value of the property this year unless all the arrears for 1923 are paid. However, I have not the slightest reason to think that the mortgagees, who are undoubtedly spending a great deal of money in an effort to pass this by-law, have ever thought of letting such a valuable asset go for less.

Should this by-law carry, every taxpayer outside the Uplands will carry a part of the burden, and I unhesitatingly advise that it be rejected and time be taken to come to a more equitable agreement. We can run no risk in rejecting this by-law, but if we accept it we pledge ourselves for ten long years to great expense and unnecessary taxes for the benefit of perhaps a new company that has never spent a dollar in the municipality.

THOMAS ASHE, Councilor, 1555 St. Ann Street, Oak Bay, May 6, 1925.

HOW TO STABILIZE VICTORIA REAL ESTATE

To the Editor:—Before the war broke out a friend of mine and I purchased a lot in Victoria valued at about $1,000. Thinking the real estate situation had improved I put a sign on it as my friend wanted at least half of his investment returned. A gentleman called to see me offering me $150 for the lot, saying he thought lots all over the city could be purchased at that price. I told him he must be living in the wrong district as lots in the district I lived in had changed hands at prices from $1,000 to $2,500 since the war, and I told him of one sold at $3,000.

I further told him of three lots sold in the same district at good prices last week and that almost all real residences were in course of erection. I said it would not do to let my friend know about the offer as it would give him a wrong impression of the beautiful city and I hoped to have him locate here some day.

In some one-horse little villages in Eastern Canada, where they have six months Winter and three months bad weather, lots are held at twice the price the gentleman offered me in this city of sunshine and flowers.

A Winnipeg member of the press crowd of a few years ago said that while in Victoria their hearts were with the roses and that surely Canada could afford one city of dreams.

Another member of the same

K. K.'S Wellington 139 MYBLOOM TEA

Fragrant Refreshing Invigorating Served by Grocers Throughout Canada

crowd from the East said: "Some one has said see Naples and die"; but after my tour of the West would say "See Victoria and live."

Is it not a stain on our beautiful city to allow a lot to be offered for sale—and the price—broadcast to strangers or tourists at the prices which often appear in the press?

Last Summer a wealthy gentleman arrived in town with the object of buying a nice home and remaining here as he had read about the beauties of Victoria. The first man he met gained his confidence after he embarked was an optimistic motor salesman who, by talking quality and high-class goods, sold him a car valued at about $7,000 and obtained his cheque.

He then fell into the hands of some real estate gentlemen, each of whom showed him many homes, telling how the owner was sacrificing them in each case, so much so that the gentleman went back to the motor agent and said he would not invest here as every man was losing money and there was no encouragement for him to invest his money in Victoria.

The agent looked up a couple of optimists and they got next to him, telling him how he had got into bad company and that conditions were not as represented. He finally agreed to buy a lot and build a home to suit himself.

My proposition is to form a company with a capital of say $50,000, and open an office for the purchase and sale of real estate in the Uplands. A disservice to the good name of the city. The city could be divided into districts and fair purchase prices arranged for offerings from certain districts.

I am sure that the office would not be running over thirty days when all the offerings such as I refer to would be off the market and those not sold be doubled in price.

This would remove the disgrace I refer to and stabilize the whole real estate situation. Also, think how it would be to be able to say to Bill who is hard up and out of a job: "I am sorry old chap I can't buy your lot but you go to the office and they will buy it."

UPLANDS BY-LAW

No. 3 The Uplands property has been taxed by the Municipality of Oak Bay to the extent of about $110,000. A large proportion of this sum has been possible because of the value of the improvements constructed at the cost of the company. This money has, to a great extent, been spent outside the Uplands. The passing of the by-law on Saturday, May 9, will assure to the municipality an income from the property of approximately $16,167 this year, contributed as to the Uplands Company $11,467, and to individual purchasers $4,700.

Should this by-law be endorsed, it is very unlikely that the municipality will get this money. Therefore vote for the by-law on Saturday.

HEALTH & DISEASE Uric Acid in the Blood

Our grandfathers often saw people suffering with gout, in fact they often suffered with it themselves. Whether it is the hurry and bustle of modern life, which allows less time for the luxuries of the table, or modern frugality which would be appalled by the old-fashioned "four-bottle man," it is certainly true that gout is less common to-day than formerly.

Gout, which is a very painful inflammation of one or more joints, is accompanied by deposits of uric acid in and about the inflamed joints, the uric acid, of course, being deposited from the blood. This is not a theory; but a fact capable of demonstration to the naked eye.

People suffering with gout were usually past middle life, of a florid appearance, well-nourished, not usually very active, and altogether presented an appearance which was spoken of as gouty. Individuals and families were gouty; they had too much uric acid, and in time uric acid came to be blamed for a great many aches and pains of which it was quite innocent. One had a "touch of gout." Now our grandfathers could assure us that there is no such thing as a "touch of gout." If it was gout at all, it was something very terrible. And was, beside anyone who, hunched against the sufferer's bed, or let a

Let us see what the facts are. A careful examination of the blood shows that uric acid is present in small quantities in the healthy. It is derived from the using up in the body of foods rich in unclear material, such as some meats, liver, brain, and also to some extent from the body tissues themselves. It is excreted by the kidneys. It is definitely increased in amount in certain ailments, notably gout, but also in the late stages of Bright's disease and in some cases of anemia and of persistent headache. There has been a tendency to attribute a great many ailments to uric acid; actually, excessive uric acid is comparatively rare.

Ontario Attorney-General Discusses Possibility of Agitation

Kington, Ont., May 7.—Discussing the possibility that an agitation might come up in Ontario to exclude women from places where beer is drunk, similar to the agitation begun in British Columbia, Attorney-General Nicksie, in an interview while visiting here today, said: "If I have faith, as I have, in the non-exaggerated effect of this beer, why should there be any question of the right of women to sit down in the same room with their relatives who may be drinking it?"

EMBARGO WOULD BRING NO RELIEF

T. H. Johnson Thinks President Coolidge May Cut American Tax

Vancouver, May 7.—The suggested embargo on United States fish would not bring relief to the halibut fishing industry in Canada, according to T. H. Johnson, general manager of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company of Prince Rupert, here to-day.

"We have hopes that the President of the United States will exercise his prerogative and reduce the duty on Canadian fish entering the United States," Mr. Johnson declared, "when the report of the Hopkinson Commission," appointed by President Coolidge to inquire into the production costs of American fish, is made. The fishing industry are optimistic that the result of this investigation will be a recommendation that the President exercise his prerogative and reduce the duty by one-half."

The Order-in-Council passed in 1914 permitting the United States fish to pass through Canada in bond was a good thing for Canada, in the opinion of Mr. Johnson, as it provided employment for Canadian labor and much freight for the Canadian National Railway.

RUTH HITS BAD WEATHER BOUND FOR THIS PORT

Is Laboring Off Flattery To-day and Expects to Reach Victoria Late To-night

Bucking a heavy sea, that is being driven in from the Pacific by a strong wind, and carrying a good passenger list for this port and for Seattle, the Ruth Alexander is due to arrive here some time to-night. All being well, and the weather not too bad, she will probably dock here about 10:30 o'clock, but should the wind be from the North, direct, and the seas be on her head, she will likely be later in docking.

From Flattery come reports of giant seas and very heavy weather. There is just enough wind to make navigation difficult, and the passage tedious on account of the slow rate of speed attained. It is understood here that one of the best Victoria passenger lists yet to come North this year is aboard the Ruth Alexander. For the first few hundred miles of the voyage the weather was more pleasant than it is now, but since last night the ship has been in rough water.

The local agent for the Pacific Steamship Company's fleet, of which the Ruth is a unit, W. M. Allan, stated that he momentarily expected a wireless from the ship telling the time of her arrival, and that he thought there was no doubt but that she would make port near schedule time.

Cunard Director, D. W. Cooke, Retires

The Cunard line to-day announced that Deion W. Cooke, desiring to retire from active business has tendered his resignation as associate director of the company, effective May 1.

Mr. Cooke came to the Cunard line in 1918 from the vice-presidency of the Erie Railroad, being at the same time Federal Fuel Administrator for the State of New York.

Grace: "I believe Jack loves you more than he used to." Evelyn: "Well, maybe not more, but at least better."

RAILROADS MUST FIGHT FOR SILK

Much of Orient's Silk Export Cargo Going Through Suez Now

San Francisco, May 7.—Local ship-owners revealed yesterday that about fifty per cent. of the silk shipments from Japan to New York that used to pass through the Pacific ports now are diverted by way of the Suez Canal because of the allegedly excessive rates charged by transcontinental railroads from the Coast east. Shippers were quoted by local newspapers as saying negotiations are under way for a "ceiling" of rates to compete with the all-water rates via the Suez.

Changes in the personnel of the McCormick Steamship organization recently made were announced here yesterday. Among the changes were: J. V. Yash, formerly co-commander here with the Western Pacific and Pennsylvania Railway Companies, has been appointed district passenger agent at Los Angeles; Joseph A. Lunny, formerly terminal agent at Los Angeles, transferred to San Francisco as assistant operating manager.

EMPRESS' MUSIC MAKERS ON RADIO

Orchestra Plays From Palace Hotel When Ship Docks at San Francisco

Victorians and others who heard San Francisco's Palace Hotel programme last night were dancing to the strains of the Empress of France orchestra. Radio fans here say that the musicians on the Canadian Pacific liner are the best that have been heard over the air for a long time. Vancouver, Portland, Tacoma and other Coast cities all joined in their praises of the Empress players last night.

When the Empress of France tourist party was here they introduced to Victoria the ship's famous musicians. Many persons here heard them play and all were charmed with their artistry. As they visit from port to port, they play when visitors are aboard the ship, or when they are invited ashore. The impressions they are making speak for their merit.

"Come, Bobby dear," said mother to her four-year-old, "it's time to take your castor oil." "Four—didn't ought to give me any, mother," answered Bobby. "Why not?" "Cos I didn't say please."

"Quick, Robbins! Bring me some brandy—her ladyship has fainted!" "Yes, your lordship, and what shall I bring her ladyship?"—London Opinion.

EXCURSION PARTY LEAVES VICTORIA EARLY TO-MORROW

Princess Louise Will Take 1,000 Passengers to Bellingham

Flags flying and bands playing, children with ice cream cones and young men in Summer attire, all will be aboard the Princess Louise when she sails from Victoria at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning, bound for Bellingham on the first excursion of the year. Tickets are selling rapidly to-day. There will be approximately 1,000 persons on the ship when she pulls away from the dock.

During the past few years, ever since the inception of the Bellingham-Sidney ferry boat run, Victoria and Bellingham have been on very friendly terms. Bellingham always gives Victorians a wonderful welcome when they come to visit, and the excursionists who will leave to-morrow are assured of a good time while en route and on their arrival in the mainland town. There will be ample time to see Bellingham when the ship arrives. Passengers will leave the ship about noon, for the run to the mainland city takes approximately three hours. On the way over there will be music on the boat. When the ship leaves again, it will be bringing the passengers back to Victoria by about 9 o'clock; there will be dancing. If the weather is fine enough, passengers will be able to dance on deck, and if it is cold there is plenty of room aboard the Louise to enjoy an informal dance in the main hall.

Mayor J. Carl Pendray and several of the city aldermen will be aboard the ship when she leaves Victoria. A civic party from Bellingham's City will meet them at the boat. Mayor Pendray will be driven away with proper ceremony in a special automobile, accompanied by other city dignitaries and city fathers, and the passengers will be left to their own devices to enjoy themselves, as they will for several hours in one of Washington's thriving little lumber ports.

Export Will be Affected When Ford Builds in Australia

At 8:10 o'clock last night, the steamship Niagara, one of the great vessels which connects Australia and southern world with British Columbia ports, sailed from this port for the Antipodes, laden with heavy cargo and carrying a good list of passengers. Although the heaviest passenger traffic at this time of year is northbound from the far away island continent, because of the fact that the country is just now entering its rainy season with the approaching of Winter, there is also a good movement to the south, and the vessel when she left here yesterday had a good list of saloon passengers. In all there were 150 persons aboard. The great majority of these were bound for Australia and New Zealand.

At Honolulu, where the big liner first stops after leaving Victoria, there will be more passengers to go aboard. Passengers aboard are given an opportunity of seeing the famed beauties of the Hawaiian Islands. From there she goes to Suva and thence to Australia. Automobiles and accessories made up a large part of the vessel's cargo. There were canned goods and flour aboard as well. It is suggested by business men that the building of a big Ford factory in Australia, which is now under way, will result in the importation of cars from Canada.

You will have to look elsewhere for Ford-made Fords," said Dr. E. E. Egenhardt, when he was here. "Henry Ford is not taking half-way measures in Australia. He is going all out for that. When he goes into a thing he does it properly." Dr. Egenhardt is touring in the United States now and will return to Victoria within a few weeks to sail south aboard the motor-ship Aorangi.

EVERETT SCOTT'S IRON MAN ACT AT LAST COULD NOT CLOSE

Cobb's Bat Inspires Tigers To Big Things

Famous Ty Cracked Out Two More Homeruns Yesterday and Set Another Major League Record; Team-mates Followed His Example and Hit Ball Hard; Bishop's Homerun for Athletics Causes Yankees Downfall; Walt Johnson Wins for Senators

New York, May 7.—Sensational hitting by Ty Cobb in St. Louis has brought new life to his mates, scrambling to emerge from the American League cellar. Ty's two homeruns brought his total for two games to five, a new major league record.

For several days the veteran of twenty-one major league campaigns remained out of the lineup and the team fell to the bottom. Then he returned and his two homeruns and a single at St. Louis yesterday, following upon three homers the previous day, stirred his men to action aplenty. Harry Heilmann, former batting champion of the American League, poled two homers, O'Rourke made a triple and two singles and Jones and Rigney each singled three times. The result was an 11-4 victory for the Tigers who appear to be showing their teeth.

Meantime the Athletics registered their second victory in three games over the once powerful Yankees and remained in a tie with the Senators for first place. Pitching was prominent in the New York battle. Both being pitted against Jones. Both crawled from bad holes in the late innings and went into the tenth at tie two runs each.

In the tenth, Max Bishop, formerly of Baltimore, smashed out a homer which proved to be the winning score. His mates were not satisfied, however, urging three more runs across driving out Jones.

Eddie Rommel appeared in time to obtain credit for the six to two victory as Harris was taken out in the eighth for a pinch hitter.

JOHNSON HOLDS OUT. Walter Johnson pitched for Washington and suffered severe punishment but the slugging abilities of his comrades gave him a 10-4 conquest, the Red Sox being the victims.

Brooklyn and Boston provided the only National League game, an excellent accomplishment for Dazzy Vance, who granted only four hits and negotiated two doubles on his own account. The Braves pitchers were hit severely during the afternoon for ten runs while their mates could not score on Vance.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. St. Louis, May 7.—The veteran Ty Cobb added to his batting liability by hitting two home runs, thereby establishing a modern major league baseball record of five four-homer games in two consecutive games and the Detroit Tigers defeated the St. Louis Browns yesterday 11 to 4.

George Slaughter hit safely in his twenty-first consecutive game.

R. H. E. Detroit 11 18 2 St. Louis 4 11 0 Batteries: Cole and Woodall; Danforth, Stanton and Seaver.

ATHLETICS WIN AGAIN. New York, May 7.—The Yankees fell back into their losing ways yesterday, dropping the final game of the series to the Athletics in ten innings, 4 to 3, giving Philadelphia three victories out of four games played. The two-run score was broken in the tenth, when Jones weakened and Bishop, the first batter, hit him for a home run. Before the inning was over Shocker succeeded Jones in the box and the Athletics had tucked the game away with four runs and five hits.

The famous consecutive game record of the Everett Scott was cut short at the 130th contest when Manager Huggins ordered him to take a rest.

R. H. E. Philadelphia 6 13 0 New York 3 10 1 Batteries: Harris, Rommel and Schanz; Jones, Shocker and Schanz.

SENATORS BEAT RED SOX. Washington, May 7.—The Senators made it two out of three from the Red Sox by taking the final of the series yesterday, winning 4-1, and thereby retaining joint occupancy of first place with the Athletics, Cleveland dropping back to second place when compelled by the weather to idle.

R. H. E. Boston 8 12 1 Washington 10 13 2 Batteries: Ehmke, Quinn, Ruffing, Lucey and Pincich; Johnson and Ruel.

NATIONAL LEAGUE. Boston, May 7.—Dazzy Vance shut out the Braves with four hits yesterday and the Brooklyn Dodgers won the third game of the series 10 to 3. Vance fanned eight batters and the Dodgers collected fifteen hits off four Boston pitchers, Fournier knocking out a triple and two singles.

R. H. E. Brooklyn 10 14 2 Boston 0 4 4 Batteries: Vance and Deberry; Graham, Batchelder, Benton, Ryan and O'Neill.

Material Aplenty For Lacrosse In City and District

Senior and Intermediate Leagues Will Operate; Four Teams at Least in Each

Meeting Last Night Found Players and Officials Willing to go Ahead

With a little more coaxing lacrosse will make a good showing in Victoria this summer. Last night a meeting of the Victoria and District Lacrosse League was held and considerable progress was made in organizing both a senior and intermediate league.

Lacrosse matters were thoroughly aired even to the sending out of feelers as to whether "Sugar" McDougall, Ernie Munro and Joe Mitchell could secure release from the amateur ranks and help swell the amateur ranks. McDougall, Munro and Mitchell played professional lacrosse for Con Jones three years ago, and have been barred from the amateur ranks ever since. The meeting was given to understand that there would be no chance of getting these players back into the amateur ranks this season.

PLENTY OF MATERIAL. That there is no lack of material in Victoria and district was the statement made at last night's meeting. The senior league will comprise four clubs, Sidney, Garrison, Esquimalt and Victoria. The former Mann Cup players will be distributed among the clubs. Sidney and the Garrison retaining the players who have worn their colors in past years. Nothing is known yet as to who will lead the Victoria team. Esquimalt is busy getting a club together.

The intermediate league should be quite strong with entries in from Oakridge, Esquimalt, Sidney and George Jay. The youngsters, most of whom graduated from the School Lacrosse League, are keen to keep at the game, and every effort will be made to encourage them.

Clubs which intend to enter either the senior or intermediate leagues are asked to attend a meeting to be held on Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Y.F.C.A. All entries must be in at that meeting.

The association has secured a fine number of trophies and these are at present on display in Jim Bryant's store window, Johnson Street. A new idea has been introduced in that small cups will be given to the individual members of the winning teams. Instead of medals, as is usually done, these will become the permanent possession of the players. Several fine cups have been secured and will be held for one year and then turned back for competition. Cups were donated by The Times, The Colonist, Mayor Penderay, David Spencer Ltd., St. James Hotel and a shield by E. C. Peetz. Donations were also received from the B. C. Electric Railway Company, Hudson's Bay Company and Lester Patrick.

WIN MAIN EVENTS. The B. C. Telephone girls made a fine showing this season. They won The Times cup emblematic of the girls' league championship, and also the Peetz shield as winners of the Victoria and district ladies' knockout tournament. The Falcons, winners of "A" men's division, will hold the Colonel cup. Jim Bryant's Bluebirds gain possession of the Victoria Basketball Association shield for winning the Victoria and district men's knockout tournament. The Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company team will hold the David Spencer cup for winning the men's "B" league. Spencer's ladies as winners of the ladies' "B" league will be holders of the Penderay cup and Spencer's men as winners of the men's "C" league.

Medals will also be given to De Macedo and C. R. D. Ferris, the two referees who handled all the games.

Meeting of Amateur Ball League Will be Held Monday Evening. A meeting of the Victoria Amateur Baseball League will be held on Monday night, in room 609 Belmont Building. Plans for the opening of the league next Wednesday will be arranged.

According to an announcement made to-day the following players have been signed by the C.P.R. and United Commercial Travelers, the teams which will clash in the opening battle:

C.P.R.: Campbell, Bob Whyte, "Pat" Johns, Bill More, Bill Natchrie, Art Minnis, Montuaki, "Matty" Malcom, Harry Copas, Roy Copas, Dikenshaw, Harold Featherston and Dave Richards.

Commercial Travelers—Bob Dunn, George Gandy, Jim Cummins, Percy Chambers, Jack Noble, J. Robertson, McGinnis, Ray Parfitt, Frank Moore, "Hap" Gandy, Eddie Newman, Martin Cotte, Hec Goodacre and Harold Parfitt.

The Hague, May 7.—The Lower Chamber of Parliament to-day rejected a bill guaranteeing one million florins for the 1923 Olympic games at Amsterdam.

Yankees' Shortstop Not In Line-up Yesterday

Played in 1,307 Consecutive Games Before Record Was Finally Halted; Looked Upon as Greatest Feat Ever Performed in Baseball; Despite Injuries Scott Never Missed a Game in Major Leagues Since June 20, 1916

EVERETT SCOTT

New York, May 7.—Everett Scott, of Auburn, Ind., yesterday gave way before knee aches after playing in 1,307 consecutive games of big league baseball. On June 20, 1916, as a member of the Boston Red Sox, Scott started on a record that no other athlete has approached on the baseball diamond. Day after day, year after year he was seen in his accustomed position, racing for warm hits and throwing out his opponents until he became known as one of the game's greatest defensive players.

Yesterday at the Yankee stadium, the end, forecast so long, came. The Indian, now captain of the former world's champion New York Yankees, donned his uniform but remained in the dug-out while little Paul Wanninger, a recruit, took his place.

Everett Scott to-day was on his way west, but not with the team. He will spend a few days visiting at his home in Indiana.

"I got two hits Tuesday," Scott said. "I care nothing about the record. I realized my ambition when I had played one thousand straight games. Had my bracing come when the team was losing I would not have cared, but it seems funny that it should happen the day after we won a game and I made two hits. I did not expect to go on forever, but I never will sit on a bench."

At the stadium yesterday it was announced that illness was the reason for Huggins taking his shortstop from the lineup and replacing him with the youthful Wanninger.

It was also learned that the benching of Scott was the first move in a shakeup of the Yankee team, which has been making a sorry showing in the early days of the American League race.

BY EVERETT SCOTT. How did I play 1,307 consecutive games? Well, now that it is all over I don't really know that I can explain, other than by saying that I love to play baseball.

Records have never meant a thing to me. So back on June 20, 1916, when I started my long run I hadn't the slightest idea that I was on the way to a record.

I have always loved to play baseball. I have always tried to give the club with which I am playing my very best efforts. The fun that I get out of my playing, plus the desire to serve my employer to the best of my ability, is responsible for my record for consecutive games.

Perhaps no player on the field is more liable to injury than the shortstop. In the last ten years I have suffered a number of injuries. Several of them threatened to put me out of the running, but somehow I always managed to respond to the bell the next day.

WRECK NEARLY SPOILED FEAT. A railroad wreck came closer to spoiling my long run than any of the injuries I have suffered. It happened in 1922. The New York club jumped west to open at Chicago. I was permitted to stop off at my home, Bluffton, Indiana.

The ride of Paul Revere had nothing on my dash from Gary, Ind., to Chicago. It cost me $42.50 in real money. I arrived at the park in the seventh inning, finishing the ball game and keeping my record clean.

At the close of the 1920 season with about 650 consecutive games to my credit, I got the bug to reach the 1,000 mark.

I feel that I have set a mark that will stand longer than Babe Ruth's fifty-nine home runs or any of the other seemingly impossible feats that have been accomplished in baseball. The chances for a player to be injured are so great that one must be blessed with much good luck to go over 1,000 games without being forced out. That's why it will be hard to beat.

Never a husky fellow I have always done my work with the least possible effort. This style of play has enabled me to conserve my strength, making my record possible.

BEAT THE RUNNER. No player is called upon to take more chances than a shortstop. In a great many plays he is called upon to cover second base and face the spikes of the base runners. In touching runners at second the fielder is always at a decided disadvantage.

While I have suffered a number of minor injuries on close plays where player, ball and infielder all meet at the same time, I have averted many an injury by anticipating the play and getting the start. If a fielder has the ball in his possession ready to touch the runner, he greatly minimizes the chances of injury. Get there first has always been a pet hobby of mine.

Living a clean life, conserving my strength, using my head, plus a desire to always give my best efforts has enabled me to play more than 1,307 games without a break. I'm proud of it.

every phase of the game. Jack Taylor handled the whiffle. The next game will be played on Friday afternoon at Central Park, starting at 3:30 o'clock, when Oakland will meet South Park.

Ball Practices. The Sons of Canada ball team will hold a practice at the Royal Athletic Park to-night at 8:30 o'clock. All players are requested to turn out. A practice of the C.P.R. team will be held at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow night at 8:30 o'clock. All players are asked to be on hand.

Connerton's Goal Gave Well-earned Victory To Blues

Defeated Reds 1-0 in Mosher Benefit Game at Royal Athletic Last Night

Local "Rep" Team Will Play Pick of Up-Island in Nanaimo Next Wednesday

Connerton's lone goal scored about half-way through the first half gave a well-earned victory to the Blues in their soccer match with the Reds at the Royal Athletic Park last night. This was the first of the series of benefit games to be played for Mosher, goalie of the Canadian All-Stars, who fractured his leg in Australia. Taking into consideration the sudden change in weather, a fair crowd of fans turned out.

The selection committee was present last night and will pick a team to play against the best of the up-island in Nanaimo next Wednesday. Jimmy Adam will manage the eleven and he is confident of securing a team that will give the up-landers a great battle. Keen interest is being taken in this series both on the island and mainland. On June 6 the pick of the mainland will be over to play against the local "rep" eleven in the final match of the benefit series. It is expected that a nice sum will be raised to help defray the large expenses incurred by the injured goalie.

TRUE ONLY GOAL COMES. Both teams set a fast pace at the start of last evening's game, and the two goalies were given plenty of shots to block. The Blues had a slight edge and Bridges in goal the Reds were called on to clear several difficult shots. The Reds carried the ball to the other end of the field but they failed to break through the strong defence of their opponents. Copas and Whyte, the Reds' full-backs, displayed some fine kicking during the early part of the match and only their good work kept the Reds from a worse defeat. About halfway through the frame the only goal of the game was scored when Connerton, in a beautiful cross kick from right wing, Bridges misjudged the ball and it sailed into the net. From this stage until half-time the Reds tried hard to even up, but the half-time whistle blew with no further scoring.

During the greater part of the second half the Reds were on the offensive but they could not break through the strong defence of the Blues. Shrimpton, the Blues' goalie, made some wonderful saves in this half and on one occasion he came about twenty feet out of his goal and stopped a fast drive.

Ralph Aleock refereed and the teams were as follows: Reds—Shrimpton (Goalkeeper), Whyte (Services), Copas (West), Roe (Veterans), Edwards (Equimait), John Watt (Equimait), Cummings (Services), Mulach (Veterans), Coles (Services), Clarkson (Veterans), and Smith (Veterans).

Blues—Shrimpton (Hudson's Bay), J. Watt (Equimait), Meredith (Veterans), McKinnon (Teamsters), Preston (Veterans), Feden (West), Connerton (Sons of England), Cameron (Sons of England), T. Watt (Equimait), Coles (Services), and Ward (Services).

Brentwood Preserves Wednesday Leadership

Victory Over Hudson's Bay Keeps College in Front in Cricket League; Tiliicums Defeat United Services in Two-innings Match, While St. Aidan's Win Easily Over University; Bowlers Had a Great Day, Most Batmen Being Helpless

Brentwood College retained its position at the top of the Wednesday Cricket League as a result of the way the matches went yesterday. Brentwood disposed of the Hudson's Bay in a close match and registered their second victory of the season. The Tiliicums and St. Aidan's find themselves tied for second place as a result of their wins while the Hudson's Bay is fourth and the University School sixth with two losses in two starts. The Albions, who held a bye yesterday, have not had a game so far.

There was a scarcity of hitting yesterday, the bowling being too cunning and tricky for the batsmen. St. Aidan's had by far the best batsmen who took kindly to the bowling of University School.

The scores were as follows: St. Aidan's 152 for three wickets, University School 57. Brentwood College 71, Hudson's Bay 65.

Tiliicums 55 and 48 for two wickets, United Services, 53 and 77 for five wickets.

Brentwood and the Bays enjoyed a very close game and only three players managed to boost their total into double figures. Brentwood put on 71 runs with some contributing 25 and Cocks 16. The rest of the side was very feeble. Gibson was the member of the Bays who did anything at the wicket. He collected 38 runs, more than half his side's total. No one else could do a thing.

GOOD BOWLING AVERAGES. Naturally the bowlers turned in some splendid averages. Bryden, of Brentwood, winning the honors with 7 wickets for 20 runs. Round, of Brentwood, took 2 wickets for 6 runs. Harrison was the best of the Bays' bowlers with 5 wickets for 39 runs.

The Tiliicums and United Services also engaged in a light hitting match. St. Aidan's in their first innings could only get three runs beyond the half-century, while the Tiliicums came back with 55. In the second innings the Services put on 77 for five wickets, thanks to a 45 for Cocks, while the Tiliicums eclipsed the grand total with only two wickets down. Frank Ackroyd with 21, not out, was the most effective batsman of the Tiliicums.

Harold Penderay, of the Tiliicums, a name for himself in the first innings when he captured 5 of the Services' wickets for 5 runs. In the second innings he was not so effective, taking only one wicket for 33 runs. Penderay and Cocks were the pick of the Services' bowlers.

ST. AIDAN'S HIT WELL. St. Aidan's proved the exception to the light hitting yesterday by slugging the University bowling for 152 runs for three wickets. Knight was not out for 46 and Sparks retired when he had compiled a 45.

R. W. Wynn, in with a 20 and Jones had a 27. University found the bowling of St. Aidan's rather stiff and the side was all out for Mitchell took 5 wickets for 20 runs.

The scores were: Brentwood College. Cocks, run out 16. Scott-Moncrieff, run out 9. Round, c Jefferson, b Harrison 6. Penderay, b Harrison 2. Capt. Dorman, b G. Gibson 2. Miller, run out 2. Corns show a lack of personal care and daintiness. Any woman will look after her face. A lady will take just as much care of her feet. A blemish there is just as much of a personal reproach. Uncle Wiggily and Tooter's Toot

Once upon a time Uncle Wiggily called to his new wife, whom he had married together with a large number of little boy and girl rabbits, and said:

"My dear, I think I shall take some of the children out for a walk. 'That will be very kind of you,' said Mrs. Uncle Wiggily. 'How many will you take?'"

"Oh, about half a dozen," answered Mr. Longears, as though speaking of eggs or something like that. "Very well," agreed his wife, and I can do some work around the bungalow, which we couldn't do if all the children were playing in it. Hop along and good luck to you."

So Uncle Wiggily called to Nipper and Skipper, to Jingle, Jangle and Tangle, and to Tooter, which made just half a dozen of the children, and away the bunny gentleman started over the fields and through the woods with them. Nurse Jane, who still lived in the hollow stump bungalow after Uncle Wiggily married, helped Mrs. Longears with the work.

"Now," said Mr. Longears, speaking to the little children rabbits, "you know that there are many things for you to be careful of, so they will not be in danger when they go hopping around by themselves."

"Do we have to learn how to spell?" asked Nipper.

"That you will learn from the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow

"I see the old fuzzy fox down there," said Tooter.

Stump School," said Uncle Wiggily. "But I can teach you how to keep out of danger from the fox and wolf, how never to jump into a hole if you can not see away out, and I will show you the poison weeds and grasses so you will not eat them by mistake."

"Will you show us how to have fun, too?" asked Jingle, who with her sister Jangle, was a lively little rabbit, always trying to play a trick or a joke.

"Yes, on this little picnic we are taking now," said Uncle Wiggily. "We may have some fun. Now for the first lesson. I will teach you the difference between toadstools and mushrooms. Mushrooms are good for rabbits to eat, but toadstools, though they are jolly good little chairs to sit on, will make you very ill if you eat them." Then the bunny gentleman gave the little bunnies this lesson, and also told them many things they never knew before about the woods and the fields.

"And now we will go over to that old stump," said Mr. Longears, and have some fun. I think I may find some lollipops in my pocket, and we can pretend we are having a picnic lunch."

The little bunnies thought this would be great fun, and they were running toward the hollow stump when, all of a sudden, Tooter jumped over beside his new daddy and whispered:

"I see the old Fuzzy Fox creeping softly along by that stone fence down there," and Tooter pointed with one paw. "I think he is trying to sneak up and catch some of us!" "I think so, too," whispered Uncle Wiggily as he and the little rabbits caught sight of the sly fox. And, indeed, the fox was hungry for some tender little rabbits. He had about given up trying to catch Uncle Wiggily.

"I know how we can scare that fox," he went on to Tooter.

"How?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "I have a tin whistle in my pocket," said Tooter. "I will take it out and toot on it and the fox will think it is a police dog blowing his whistle and he will run!"

"That's a good idea, Tooter!" said Uncle Wiggily. Go on—toot!"

But when Tooter tried to blow his whistle, or toot on it, he could not. He puffed out his cheeks and swelled up like a balloon, but still the whistle would not make a sound. "It's all stopped up with cracker dust that was in my pocket," said Tooter. "But I'll try again." Once more he puffed out his cheeks, but, instead of blowing the tooter gave a loud sneeze because some of the cracker dust flew up his nose. "Ker choo! Ker choo! Ga zazzum!" sneezed Tooter, and he made such a strange, funny scary sort of noise that the fox tucked his tail between his legs and howled:

"Oh, that must be a new sort of a gun Uncle Wiggily's new little rabbits are getting ready to shoot! I'm going home!" and away he ran, frightened by Tooter's sneeze.

Then Uncle Wiggily laughed, and so did the little rabbits, and they had fun eating the lollipops. But there was none for the fox. And if the roof doesn't jump down off the top of the house to watch the cellar window play tag with the coalbin, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's dandelion pie.

So Says Quebec Lady of Dodd's

Kidney Pills

Quebec Lady is Very Enthusiastic

About Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Laurent, Que., May 6 (Special).—

Just why Dodd's Kidney Pills are so popular in Quebec Province is shown by the statement of Dame Isidore

Beauregard, a well-known resident of this place.

"It gives me pleasure to tell you that we are all quite well since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. My boy is now enjoying good health and my would has them much better. His kidney trouble and dyspepsia are nearly gone. I am quite well myself and it gives me pleasure to praise

your pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have become a family remedy because people have tried them and found them good.

They help Rheumatism, Lumbago,

Diabetes, Lane Back, Heart Disease and Urinary troubles, because all of these are either Kidney Diseases or are caused by the kidneys failing to do their work.

STANLEY MACKAY AS

JIM BLUDSO IN

"BOSTON BLACKIE"

Playhouse patrons this week have been wondering who the big manly chap is who appears in the role of

"Jim Bludso" in "Boston Blackie," and now the truth has come out. In casting the play Director Morton was at his wits end to locate someone to play the part of "Jim," and who would, at the same time, look the character. Glancing across the stage into the dim recesses of the property department he noticed a figure on a ladder working on the big locomotive which is a part of the scenic equipment of "Boston Blackie." Looking closer, he saw it was Stanley

Mackay putting on the finishing touches to the big "mogul" engine.

"Stan" is the chap who is responsible for all the recent stage settings used by the Morton company. Dressed in blue denim jumper, with a small black cap and large white gloves,

he looked the ideal of a train-

man. Morton, quick to see the significance of the incident, immediately pressed "Stan" into service.

Incidentally, "Stan" has been giving a highly creditable performance of

"Jim" all week.

"Boston Blackie" will be presented for the last time to-day and to-morrow, with a special matinee to-morrow afternoon. "The Scarlet Pinpernel" is the current screen feature.

FROM LAUNDRESS TO

DUCHESS FOR GLORIA

IN "SANS GENE"

In "Madame Sans Gene" Gloria

Swanson has probably the most important role ever attempted by her during her screen career, but according to all reports she has created for the screen a figure as great as the Napoleon of the stage. Gloria, who is playing by Victorien Sardou and Emile Moreau.

The Paramount picture, which was filmed entirely in Paris, playing at Dominion Theatre to-day. The opening of the production finds Gloria as

Catherine Hubscher, a French laundress who, through the fortunes of war—the French Revolution—finds herself the possessor of the title of Duchess and a place in the court of Napoleon, for whom she used to stail silk shirts from her wealthy customers, when the Emperor of France was a mere nobody.

Charles de Roche, the only member of the supporting cast with any motion picture experience in this country, has the leading man's role, that of a young sergeant who marries

Sans Gene.

"Madame Sans Gene" was written for the screen by Forrest Halsey, who adapted it from Miss Swanson's recent successes.

Besides de Roche, Warwick Ward, popular English leading man; Emil

Drain, probably the foremost por-trayer of the character of Napoleon in the world to-day, appear in the cast.

COLORFUL SCENES

IN "THE DRESSMAKER

FROM PARIS" HERE

The Paramount picture, "The Dressmaker from Paris," a Paul Bern

production featuring Leatrice Joy and Ernest Torrence, which plays at the Capitol Theatre for the remainder of this week, is a riot of beautiful girls, gorgeous gowns and colorful settings.

The story, written for the screen

by Adelaide Hellbron and Howard

Hawks, brings Miss Joy to the screen in the role of a little midwife of a

Paris shop, who becomes a famous creator of fashions.

For this production Paramount has assembled fourteen international beauty models, all of whom wear beauty contests or selected by well known critical judges, in the roles of manikins. The girls wear some-staying and designed especially for this picture by one of Paris's most prominent creators.

One of the high spots of the production is a gorgeous fashion revue staged by Miss Joy as Madame

Louise, and the fourteen girls, in a department store in a small middlewest America town, of Charles the proprietor of the store, Allan

Forrest, leading man in the picture, is the junior partner in the firm. It is said that nothing ever before attempted for screen purposes can hold a candle to this array of beauty and gorgeousness.

FRUIT MARKETING PLANS DISCUSSED

Associated Growers of B.C. Making Arrangements With Jobbers in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, May 7.—A conference between representatives of the local fruit jobbers and the executive of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, which began last Friday, was adjourned last night to be reconvened next week in Vancouver. It was indicated the differences between the jobbers and the growers' association had been settled tentatively.

The conference was the outgrowth of a recent decision of the growers to deal directly with the retailers in place of jobbers. The sessions were held in camera and news that a conference was in progress led to the publication in a local paper yesterday of a story to the effect that a "war" for the control of the fruit trade was in progress.

STATEMENT ISSUED

After the session last night David McNair, president of the Growers' Association, issued the following statement:

"Arising out of our recent decision to sell in Winnipeg direct to the retail merchants, we were approached by the local jobbers and asked to meet them in conference. This conference began last Friday and now stands adjourned until next week when it will be resumed in British Columbia. At the end of next week the results arrived at will immediately be made public.

"I do not think it would be fair to our organization for me to say anything further at this stage except that this conference, which we consider of the utmost importance to the growers, has been conducted with the utmost good will on all sides and with complete success as far as we are concerned."

The conference here were attended by representatives of all the local jobbers, including H. B. Finch, Minneapolis, president of the Naah-interests. In addition to Mr. McNair, E. Chambers, president of the Growers' Association, attended on behalf of that organization.

An American millionaire was being shown by a Scottish peer over a Highland estate which he intended to buy. When they reached the house the American noticed over the entrance hall the motto: "East, West, Home's Best."

Turning to the owner, he remarked: "Well, my lord, there's one stipulation I must make," pointing to the motto. "That fellow Hame has got to take down his advertisement."

That Kidney Trouble, Take it in Time!

Chatham, Ont.—"My husband and I have both been wonderfully benefited by taking Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. We have both had such help from taking the Tablets that we are in a position to know the value of this great medicine. I had an acute case of kidney trouble, and was suffering something awful when I started to take Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and they completely relieved me of this spell with my kidneys and bladder and I have never had another attack. And for years my husband suffered with kidney and bladder trouble, his back would pain him just across his kidneys, and many days he voided the secretion with difficulty; it would scald and burn and cause him great distress. But after he began taking 'Anuric,' his kidney and bladder trouble disappeared and he does not have any more trouble with either. He doctor for years for this trouble, before he learned of 'Anuric,' and had taken every well-known medicine without any help to speak of."—Mrs. Amelia Rushmore, 51 Scane Street.

Dr. Pierce's Anuric is sold by all druggists. Send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., for a trial package. (Advt.)

TIMES CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

A wide variety of words, hard and easy, make this just the kind of puzzle to test the average fan. Two unkeyed letters together may hold him up for a while.

Cross-word Puzzle 02317

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSSWORD PUZZLE

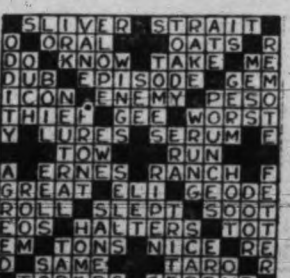

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both as a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved it, a puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

ARMS CONFERENCE HEARS FRENCH VIEWS

Geneva, May 7.—France, through her parliamentarian, Paul Boncour, who presides over the French Commission of National Defence, has given notification that national security must be the precursor to disarmament. Addressing the International Conference on the Control of the Trade in Arms and Munitions yesterday, he repeated his great oratorical effort of the last League Assembly when he defended the Geneva peace protocol.

While he pleaded for that reign of mutual confidence and spirit of mutual assistance among nations which would permit the world to decrease its burden of armaments, M. Boncour contended that the successful issue of the present conference would not be enough. It must be supplemented by another convention checking private manufacture of arms.

"The Circular Staircase"

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

"Lucien Wallace?" he repeated. "No, I think not. There are plenty of Wallaces around, but I don't know any Lucien."

"I was certain as possible that he did. People do not lie readily to me, and this man lied beyond a doubt. But there was nothing to be gained now; his defenses were up, and I left half irritated and wholly baffled."

Our reception was entirely different at Doctor Stewart's. Taken into the bosom of the family at once, Plinders tied outside and nibbling the grass at the roadside, Gertrude and I drank some home-made elderberry wine and told briefly of the fire. Of the more serious part of the night's experience, of course, we said nothing. But when at last we had left the family on the porch and the good doctor was untying our steed, I asked him the same question I had put to Doctor Walker.

"Shoot!" he said. "Eh, my soul, no. Why have you been doing this up at the big house, Miss Innes?"

"Some one tried to enter the house during the fire, and was shot and slightly injured," I said hastily. "Please don't mention it; we wish to make as little of it as possible."

"There was one other possibility, and we tried that. At the Casanova station I saw the station master, and asked him if any trains left Casanova between one o'clock and daylight. There was none until six a.m. The next question required more diplomacy."

"I did you notice on the six o'clock train any person—a man—who limped a little?" I asked. "Please try to remember; we are trying to trace a man who was seen loitering around Sunnyside last night before the fire."

He was all attention in a moment. "I was up there myself at the fire," he said. "I'm a member of the volunteer company. First big fire we've had since the Summer house burned over to the club golf links. My wife was sayin' the other day, 'Dave, you might as well 'a' saved the money in that there helmet and shirt.' And here last night they came in handy. Rang the bell so hard I hadn't time scarcely to get 'em on."

"And—did you see a man who limped?" Gertrude put in, as he stopped for breath.

"Not at the train, ma'am," he said. "No such person got on here to-day. But I'll tell you where I did see a man that limped. I didn't wait till the fire company left; there's a fast freight goes through a four-forty-five, and I had to get down to the station. I seen there wasn't much more to do anyhow at the fire—we'd got the flames under control"—Gertrude looked at me and smiled—"so I started down the hill. There was folks here and there goin' home, and along by the path to the Country Club I seen two men. One was a big rock, his back to me, and he had something white in his hand, as if he was tying up his foot. After I'd gone on a piece, I looked back, and he was hobbling on and—excuse me, miss—he was swearing something sickening."

"Did they go toward the club?" Gertrude asked suddenly, leaning forward.

"No, miss. I think they came into the village. I didn't get a look at their faces, but I know every chick and child in the place, and every body knows me. When they didn't about at me—in my uniform, you know—I took it they were strangers."

So all we had for our afternoon's work was this: some one had been shot by the bullet that went through the door; he had not left the village, and he had not called a physician. Also, Doctor Walker knew who Lucien Wallace was, and his very denial made me confident that, in that one direction—at least, we were on the right track.

The thought that the detective would be there that night was the most cheering thing of all, and I think even Gertrude was glad of it. Driving home that afternoon, I saw her in the clear sunlight for the first time in several days, and I was startled to see how ill she looked. She was thin and colorless, and all her bright animation was gone.

"Gertrude," I said, "I have been a very selfish old woman. You are going to leave this miserable house to-night. Annie Morton is going to Scotland next week, and you shall go right with her."

To my surprise, she flushed painfully. "I don't want to go, Aunt Ray," she said. "Don't make me leave now."

"You are losing your health and your good looks," I said decidedly. "You should have a change."

"I shan't stir a foot," she said. "I've decided. Then, more lightly: 'Why, you and Liddy need me to arbitrate between you every day in the week.'"

Perhaps I was growing suspicious of every one, but it seemed to me that Gertrude's gaiety was forced and artificial. I watched her covertly during the rest of the day, and I did not like the two spots of crimson in her pale cheeks. But I said nothing more about sending her to Scotland; I knew she would not go.

CHAPTER XXV

A Visit From Louise.

That day was destined to be an eventful one, for when I entered the house and found Eliza encoined in the upper hall on a chair, with Mary Anne doing her best to stifle her with household ammonia, and Liddy rubbing her wrists—whatever good that is supposed to do—I knew that the ghost had been walking again, and this time in daylight.

Eliza was in a frenzy of fear. She clutched at my sleeve when I went close to her, and refused to let go until she had told her story. Coming just after the fire, the household was demoralized, and it was no surprise to me to find Alex and the under-gardener struggling downstairs with a heavy trunk between them.

"I didn't want to it, Miss Innes," Alex said. "But she was no excited. I was afraid she would do as she said—drag it down herself, and scratch the staircase."

I was trying to get my bonnet off and to keep the maids quiet at the same time. "Now, Eliza, when you have washed your face and stopped yawning," I said, "come into my sitting-room and tell me what has happened."

Liddy put away my things without speaking. The very set of her shoulders expressed disapproval.

"Well," I said, when the silence became uncomfortable, "things seem to be warming up."

Silence from Liddy, and a long sigh.

"If Eliza goes, I don't know where to look for another cook." More silence.

"Rosie is probably a good cook," I said.

"Liddy," I said at last, "don't dare to deny that you are having the time of your life. You positively gloat in this excitement. You never looked better. It's my opinion all this running around, and getting jolted out of a rut, has stirred up that torpid liver of yours."

"It's not myself I'm thinking about," she said, goaded into speech. "Maybe my liver was torpid, and maybe it wasn't; but I know this: I've got some feelings left, and to see you standing at the foot of that staircase shootin' through that door—I'll never be the same woman again."

"Well, I'm glad of that—anything for a change," I said. And in came Eliza, flanked by Rosie and Mary Anne.

PROGRESSIVES NAME NEW CHIEF WHIP

C. W. Stewart, Humboldt, Sask., Given Post; Robert Forke Remains Leader

Ontario Members of Party to Choose Chairman of Caucus

Ottawa, May 7.—Robert Forke, M.P. for Brandon, has declined to remain as leader of the Progressive Party. J. Fred Johnston has resigned as chief whip, and is replaced by C. W. Stewart, M.P. for Humboldt, Sask.
This was officially announced following a caucus of the Progressive members of the Commons last night. It was further understood, although not officially announced, that the caucus left with the Ontario members the nomination of a chairman of caucus to replace J. Wilfrid Kennedy, M.P. for Gengarry, Ontario.
The official statement read as follows: "Following the division on the budget, a caucus of the Progressive group was called by Robert Forke, M.P. the leader, to consider the alternative created thereby, and its bearing on the future of the Progressive movement. As a result of a statement presented by Mr. Forke, and after lengthy discussion, the resignations of the officers and executive of the group were voluntarily handed in, in order that the members might be perfectly free to take whatever steps might be considered necessary.

Immediately following the introduction of the budget and the moving of the Conservative amendment thereto, the executive of the Progressive group took into consideration the course to be pursued. They appointed a sub-committee to draft an amendment to the budget for submission to the caucus and recommended that this sub-amendment should be moved in the House in spite of the virtual certainty that it would be ruled out of order, as enabling the Progressive view of the budget to be recorded as Hansard, and to be placed before the country.

B.C. RESERVATION

"At a caucus held on March 28 this sub-amendment was submitted, and it and the course recommended by the executive were adopted by the Progressive members without any dissenting voice, save that the British Columbia members reserved the right to support the Government if they saw fit.

"The sub-amendment was couched in terms conveying uncompromising opposition to the Liberal tariff policy, it contained the vote specific reference to the dumping clauses of the Tariff Act. No one in the caucus expressed the view, since advanced by some members, that the Progressive attitude on the budget was dictated by the dumping proposal in particular.

VOTE IN COMMONS

"The sub-amendment was intended to convey, and did convey the strongest opposition of the Progressive group to the Government's policy. On that ground it was accepted by the caucus and moved in the House by myself, and the Speaker's ruling against its introduction was challenged, a resulting vote displaying the virtual unanimity of the group at that time.

"The fiscal principles of the group expressed in the sub-amendment were then reaffirmed by the group as representing a policy along which virtually all the members were united. The question of constituency autonomy, or the right of the individual members freely to express their views in the absence of a unanimous decision of the group to vote as a unit was not disputed."

The statement added "that Mr. Forke had been re-elected leader of the party, and C. Wallace Stewart, Humboldt, elected chief whip.
